Revision to the Price of Caustic soda and Caustic potash

Toagosei Co., Ltd. hereby announces that it has decided to revise the selling price of the following products and has commenced discussions with its customers.

1. Products

Caustic soda
Caustic potash

2. Price Revision Range

Caustic soda : Increase of 30 yen per kg or more on a dry basis
Caustic potash : Increase of 45 yen per kg on a dry basis

3. Effective Date of the Price Revision

For shipments on and after July 1, 2026

4. Background to the Price Revision

We are facing rising electricity costs driven by higher crude oil prices. In addition to increases in electricity and other raw material costs, fixed costs such as logistics, labor, and maintenance expenses have also increased significantly, placing considerable pressure on profitability.

We have been making efforts to reduce costs for these products, including improving production efficiency. However, further improvements through our own efforts alone have reached their limit. Therefore, in order to maintain stable production and supply, we have determined that a revision of product prices is necessary.
